the government agenda on personalisation and self directed support is fast moving and rapidly changing it is vital therefore that students and practitioners alike are aware of the key issues and debates as well as the policy that surrounds this area of practice this timely and fully revised second edition provides an overview of the

personalisation agenda and looks at the recent legislation in a broad historical and theoretical perspective it considers the impact of personalisation on service users and carers and draws directly upon their experiences there are service user narratives within the book that explore how individuals feel about directing their own support and the social workers who support them this book encourages students to consider notions of choice and independence by reflecting on their own lives and experiences it contains activities and case studies to deepen reflective and critical thinking skills and provides links to the professional capabilities framework for social work social media is having a profound but not yet fully understood impact on public relations in the 24 7 world of perpetually connected publics will public relations function as a dark art that spins or tweets self interested variations of the truth for credulous audiences or does the full glare of the internet and the increasing expectations of powerful publics motivate it to more honestly engage to serve the public interest the purpose of this book is to examine the role of pr by exploring the myriad ways that social media is reshaping its conceptualization strategies and tactics in particular it explores the dichotomies of fake and authentic powerless and powerful meaningless and meaningful it exposes transgressions committed by practitioners the paucity of digital literacy the lack of understanding of the norms of social media naivety about corporate identity risks and the overarching emphasis on spin over authentic engagement but it also shows the power that closely networked social media users have to insert information and opinion into discussions and force false pr friends to be less so this timely challenging and fascinating book will be of interest to all students researchers and practitioners in public relations media and communication studies winner of the 2016 nca pride award for best book
